Preparations on a Grand Scale for the Reception of the French Fleet at Portsmouth.

Superiority of Canadian Eggs Shipped to England Proved Beyond Doubt.

A Churlish Landowner in Scotland at Loggerheads With the Villagers.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 18.—Preparations are all complete for the reception of the French fleet, and they have been made with a will, for the Frenchmen will be much more welcome than the Germans were. The whole town, private as well as public buildings, is decorated with flags and streamers. The Solent is full of pleasure craft of every description, filled with gaily dressed people, and every place of vantage on shore for miles is covered with spectators. The British men-of-war are already in position, ready to do the honors the moment the friendly squadron hoves in sight. The Royal Yacht Club makes a fine display, a large portion of the fleet being here. A position has been assigned to it in the ceremonies of the reception. The yachts of all nations are present, and among them the American flag occasionally appears. A large number of Frenchmen have crossed the Channel to view the spectacle so flattering to their national pride. The hotels are filled, and fabulous prices are asked for everything.

The Holy Coat of Trekes.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—The city of Trekes is packed with visitors from all parts of Germany, to be present at the ceremonies on Thursday, when the holy coat of the Saviour will be exposed to public view. Thousands of letters have been received in which the writers beg for permission to enter the church and permission to touch the holy coat for religious and healing purposes. The rector of the church at Argenteuil, in France, which possesses a rival coat, has arrived there with two friends. He declares that the Holy coat of Trekes is not seamless, as has been represented, and as the description in the New Testament requires the coat should be. Moreover, that it is a long cloak, falling from the shoulders to the feet, which Jesus, being a mere craftsman, could never have worn. The French rector, who got the start of the Germans by the exhibition at Argenteuil, on Sunday, of the coat vouched for by Gregory of Tours, is incensed at the prominence given the coat of Trekes. His presence is likely to cause trouble, as his remarks have stirred up much indignation among the faithful.

Great Welsh Festival.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Mme. Patti will attend the Eisteddfod at Swansea, tomorrow, and has aroused the enthusiasm of the Welsh bards by promising to sing during the festival. People are flocking to Swansea by thousands, in consequence. The opening ceremonies of the festival took place to-day, with great display and great promise of success. There was a procession of bards, which marched to the pavillion holding twenty thousand people. The mayor delivered the inaugural address, dwelling on the literary and musical results of these assemblages in the past thousand years.

For Protection Against Fruit Pests.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—A syndicate of wine-growers has been formed at Epernay for mutual insurance against individual losses from the ravages of the phylloxeria. A meeting, attended by six thousand persons, was held at Epernay, yesterday, to promote this object, but was invaded by a body of wine-growers hostile to the measure, who captured the meeting and elected a committee opposed to the scheme. The opponents of the syndicate declared that there is no danger at present of phylloxeria, and that the movement is a speculative one. They also oppose the government's proposal to appoint inspectors who shall have the right to enter all vineyards and take measures against the phylloxeria.

Superiority of Canadian Eggs.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Over 3,000,000 Canadian eggs have been landed at Liverpool. Experts declare that these eggs are far superior to the best that come from Ireland or from the continent in regard to size, quality and packing. Though the shipment of eggs from Canada on such a large scale was brought about by the McKinley bill, which has the effect of depriving Canada of a U. S. market, the English dealers say that the Canadian article can now hold this market, whatever happens, their superiority having now been proven.

A Churlish Landowner.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A gentleman named Farquharson has been making himself obnoxious, of late, to the residents of Bramaer, the pretty little village near which the Queen's Balmoral castle is situated. Farquharson, who owns an immense estate, adjoining Her Majesty's domain, some time ago closed the right of way across his grounds to certain spots much frequented by the villagers and by tourists, on account of the splendid view obtainable there of the surrounding mountains and water scenery. The Queen, across whose property the right of way also led, has always been very willing that the privilege should be continued, but her graciousness was ineffective, so long as Farquharson denied admission to his estates. The villagers determined to ignore the barrier erected across the path, and frequently threw it aside, regardless of the warning of the owner of the land. Recently, however, Farquharson caused a high and strong fence to be erected, which could not be passed by any single trespasser. It was then resolved by the people of the neighborhood to assert their claim to right of access to the points referred to, and to-day was chosen as the time for carrying out their purpose. Four hundred villagers and visitors, headed by a brass band, marched to the barrier, tore it down and burned the timber, of which it was composed. They then proceeded in triumph to the spot where the most beautiful view could be obtained and listened to speeches by local orators, defining their rights of access to the territory in question. It was solemnly resolved that those present would march to the same spot every day so long as any attempt was made to exclude them, this being, according to legal advice, the best method of testing their common rights, which would certainly lapse if they did not exercise them. It is stated Farquharson will at once take the matter into court, and if he does, the villagers will make a strong fight with a very good legal case, it is thought, on their side.

The Kaiser Will Not Come.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The hopes which have been raised from time to time that the German Emperor might visit the United States during the Columbian exhibition, because he has indicated a wish to do so, have been disappointed. It is officially declared that the Emperor has no intention of taking a journey so far away from home, much as he desires to see the great country across the Atlantic.

Further Advance in Flour.

LEEDS, Aug. 18.—The Leeds Millers' Association to-day decided to further advance the price of flour. The meeting fixed the prices at one shilling and sixpence above the previous rate.

Frightful Railway Accident.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Two passenger trains, going at full speed, collided to-day at a point between Ostrowo, Prussia, and Loswitz. Ten persons were killed and many injured. The coals from the locomotives set fire to the wreck and terrible scenes were witnessed, some of the injured being burned to death before the eyes of the rescuers.

To Spy Out the Land.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Two tenant farmers, one English and one Scotch, have sailed for Canada to examine and report upon the resources of the Dominion, especially Nova Scotia, and its adaptability for the settlement of English and Scotch emigrants. The Canadian Government pays all their expenses.

Failure of an Australian Bank.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 17.—The suspension of the British Bank of Australia is announced. The liabilities are $800,000, half of which is owed creditors in England.

S., Aug. 18.—A cablegram from the Colonial Office, in London, announces that neither England nor Spain has given notice of their intention to terminate the treaty of 1880, and as one year's notice of such intention must be given after the date fixed for its expiration, no change can be made for two years to come on the duty on Canadian imports into the Spanish West Indies.

It is understood the resignation of McGreevy is in the hands of the speaker, but this is not definitely known. Rumors that he had resigned were published in all the afternoon papers.

A Printing Bureau Scandal.

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—An Ottawa despatch to the World says that it is admitted that unless there is a tall lot of swearing by the type founders of Toronto, it will be elicited that an official who had a great deal to do with the printing bureau, received large commissions from them on purchases made by him; but it is not so much the official that the Reform editors who have charge of this scandal are after, as it is his ministerial chief, Mr. Chapleau. They will not say openly that he shared in any of the commissions got by the head of the bureau, but they think they will be able to get at something if the evidence goes deep enough and far enough.

The Traffic in Chinese.

TORONTO, August 17.—A Washington despatch says that the treasury department has been advised that Vancouver is the point where Chinamen that are being smuggled into the United States enter British Columbia. The information is that hundreds arrive on every Chinese steamer, and that about 2,000 annually are brought into the United States from that point. It is said smuggling over the line is abetted by a few whites, who are rather glad to evade the vigilance of the United States authorities. Moreover, the practice puts considerable money into their purses and also a few living at Victoria, and is one of the miner elements of the town's prosperity.

CAPITAL NOTES.

British Columbia Matters Discussed in the House of Commons—Dewdney Goes for Laurier.

The Rights of Settlers to Minerals—An Important Consideration—The Opposition Entirely Astray.

(From our own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—British Columbia had another regular field day in the House of Commons. Hon. Mr. Laurier, as an amendment to supply, moved that the Minister of the Interior had committed a breach of faith with Parliament in not sending an officer to British Columbia to enquire into the claims of the settlers of the districts of Cranberry, Cedar, Wellington, Nanoose and Nanaimo, to the minerals in the lands they occupy. Hon. Mr. Dewdney said he rejoiced that at last the Opposition had begun to take an interest in British Columbia and the other, so called, outlying provinces. He would, however, remark that he had never promised to enquire into the question of the minerals taken from land grants. This was not the custom After observations from Mr. Mulock, Hon. Mr. Thompson took the floor. In his hands Mr. Laurier's argument went badly to pieces. It was first shown that the settlers, whose claims Mr. Laurier was supporting, were originally squatters on the land, which at the time was by act of British Columbia reserved for settlement for specific purposes. The statute of their native province said that these men had no rights either to the surface or to the minerals. This tract of land was reserved for a particular purpose and was given as land grant for the Nanaimo railway. Afterward, when the territory came under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government, homesteads were granted to settlers, not as a matter of right, but as a matter of grace. The only rights granted were surface rights The minerals were expressly reserved and were granted to other parties by the same act, which gave the settlers whatever legal title they had. What Mr. Laurier asked the House to say was that the Government was blameable for giving the settlers minerals, which, by act of parliament, had been transferred to the others. The Opposition leader was really asking the House to condemn the Government for not violating an act of parliament. The further discussion was participated in by Messrs. Mills, Gordon, Davies, and Mara. The two British Columbia members showed clearly how far the opposition were astray in their facts, particularly making a laughing stock of the Hon. Mr. Davies. The House divided on Mr. Laurier's amendment, which was rejected by 101 to 81.

The announcement of a likelihood that no British Columbia rifle team will visit Ottawa, this year, has been received with great regret. Messrs. Prior and Kirkpatrick are endeavoring to make arrangements with the C.P.R., and it is hoped the team will be able to come East.

Thos. McGreevy has resigned. He failed to present himself in the House to day, thereupon the Sergeant-at-arms was instructed to arrest him. The Sergeant will go to Quebec to-morrow, but will find his bird flown. The highest authorities say there is nothing to prevent Mr. Speaker accepting his resignation. He has not even protested, but his resignation does not free Mr. McGreevy from the House proceedings.

Mr. Cockburn returned from Quebec today. He says he will have further startling evidence before the Senate Commission to-morrow as to the Baie des Chaleurs steal.

The Post Office authorities have been notified that all Canadian newspapers containing anything in the shape of lottery advertisements will be prohibited from being carried in the United States mail hereafter.

NEWS OF THE PROVINCE.

NANAIMO.

The steamer Michigan arrived, this afternoon, from Portland, with a consignment of wheat. The Mexico arrived, this morning, bound north. Her passengers attended a dance on the green, this evening.

The labor demonstration, under the aunder the auspices of the M. and M. P. L. A., is to be held in this city on September 19th.

WESTMINSTER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 18.—James M. Tiffany was arrested to-day at the instance of W. H. Adams, of Victoria, on the charge of stealing three sewing machines. Tiffany has been acting here as agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co.

VANCOUVER.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 18.—John Irvine, walking delegate for the Trades and Labor Council, was brought before Justices of the Peace Mellon and Schofield, to-day, charged with having beset the Bank of B. C. building. Geo. Mesher, the contractor, swore that Irvine would not allow the plasterers to go to work until Mesher paid the fees for his carpenters, who would not join the union, and promised there would be no further interference when the money was paid. A few days later, Irvine demanded more money on the dismissal of one of the men. The case was adjourned.

The U. S. revenue cruiser Walcott arrived last night, to meet Hon. O. L. Spaulding, D. C., to-day, accompanied by Mrs. Spaulding, Mr. A. K. Tingle, Washington; B. W. Perkins, of Kansas; and John Lind, of Minnesota. Mr. Spaulding is here on an official visit in connection with some irregularity known to exist along the coast, whereby the opium and Chinese smuggling traffic has assumed enormous proportions, and will report, on his return to Washington, just what steps he may think will be necessary to prevent such flagrant violation of the law in the future. It is also understood that, while he is here, the matter of filling the position of American Consular Agent will be considered, and in all probability the result of the enquiries made will be that Mr. Ewing's resignation will be accepted.

SLAUGHTER OF SEALS.

Russian Hunters Making Big Catches in Eastern Siberia—Trespassers Chased.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg states that, according to Russian advices from East Siberia, the Russian sealers have already captured a considerable number of skins in the waters controlled by the Russian government, and that there is no apparent cessation of the operations. The authorities are keeping a lookout for trespassers in the Russian jurisdiction, and so far several have been chased, but none captured.

The sealing season has been excellent, no diminution in the number of seals being apparent. The Russians apparently feel under no obligations as to any agreement with Great Britain. It is rumored on semi-official authority that no confidence is placed by the Czar's representatives in Eastern Siberia in the good faith of the American Sealing company, which, they claim, is taking advantage of the provision allowing them to capture a certain number of seals to take all the seals they can get. The Russians, therefore, are going ahead with their seal fishing as usual under the Russian flag, and in entire independence of any international arrangement.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Half-Million Dollar-Fire.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 18.—A half-million dollar-fire this morning destroyed 55 buildings, including Knights crockery house, and the Hibbard Block, in which was located the Western Union telegraph office, and half a dozen other large concerns, the Tremont House, Seminole Club, Smith Building, Hotel Placide, Chelsea House, McMurray & Baker's carriage warehouse, St. Joseph's Convent, the Retzweiler residence, and Lloyd Bros. crockery store. The buildings for four streets back from Bay street, and a strip of two squares wide, were burned. An explosion of dynamite on Forsythe street made the fire uncontrollable and injured many people, but none seriously. The insurance is light. Many other buildings in the vicinity of the business portions were badly damaged, and some were completely gutted.

Discovery of a New Metal.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 17.—A series of experiments by Thomas Harrison, of this city, into the properties and uses of nickel steel and manganese bronze have resulted in the discovery of a new metal, the chief characteristics of which are that it has a very high tensile strength, is indestructible by corrosion, impervious to acids, and that it can be wrought into spikes, nails, etc., while either hot or cold.

Colonizing Negroes in California.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Herald, editorially, says: There is a good deal of sound horse sense in the plan for colonizing a large number of negroes on the Pacific slope. Senator Stanford is said to be interested, and it is predicted that within the next twelve months 50,000 or more colored people may find employment and homes in California. At any event the scheme is under full headway, and will have a fair trial. The climate out yonder is peculiarly genial and adapted to the negro constitution. California is in need of laborers, and can give them steady work and fair living wages, as Chinese are neither liked or trusted.

WHOLESALE LOSS OF LIFE.

Another Train Disaster—Excursionists Going to Berne.

BERNE, Aug. 17.—Yesterday, another wholesale loss of life by a railroad accident occurred on the Yura Simplon Railroad, near the village of Zolofekan, not far from this city.

A special train, carrying a large number of excursionists from country districts to this city, while on its way here, to witness the fetes in connection with the 700th anniversary of the foundation of the city of Berne, was run into by a Paris heavy express, while sidetracked to allow the latter to pass.

The accident occurred in the guard's van at the rear end of the excursion train, the passenger train being demolished and a large number of passengers killed. The exact number of the dead and wounded is not known, but thirteen corpses have already been recovered from the ruins, and it is known that eighteen people have been seriously injured by the collision.

A wrecking train, carrying doctors and nurses, together with a detachment of engineers, was dispatched to the scene of the accident, and crowds of people have started in the same direction.

The majority of the passengers aboard the excursion train belong to towns in the vicinity of this city. No American travellers were among the killed. The accident is thought to be the fault of the railroad officials.

The towns in the vicinity of this city are full of excitement and mourning, and the sad event has marred the festivities incident to the celebration in which Berne was so joyously engaged, and the remaining features of the programme will doubtless be abandoned in consequence.

It was the custom for the little girl to tell her grandparents what the text was every Sunday after church. The other day she hesitated quite a while before she remembered, and finally said: "Goodness, gracious! My cup's tipped over!"—Boston Times.

His expression—Will was sent to carry a bundle to an old gentleman, who was an immensely fat man, with a broad, beaming countenance and a perpetual smile. "How did you like Mr. Hill?" asked his mother, when he returned. "Not much," answered Will. "His cheeks are too fat, and his face is too broad, and it looks—it looks—" hunting for an expression,—"it looks ambiguous!" "Nonsense!" How can his face look ambiguous?" "Well, I don't know, mamma. Because it 'am big,' I s'pose!"—Harper's Young People.

THE LOST FOUND.

Booth and Gendron Succeed in Locating Themselves—Lost for Forty-eight Hours.

The Whistle of the Locomotive Led Them Out of the Wilderness.

After 48 hours of hardships; lost in the dense woods surrounding Shawnigan lake, with nothing to eat during the time, and frequently frightened out of their wits by prowling bears that crossed their paths, George Cornelius Booth and Fred. Gendron reached Fitzgerald's camp, yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

They left this city Saturday evening, and made their headquarters at Fitzgerald's. The two young men, each of whom is about 20 years of age, left this camp with their guns, early on Sunday morning, intending to return in time to catch the evening train back to Victoria. They failed to return, however, and, as the hours wore on, and no trace of them was discoverable, considerable anxiety was manifested by the friends in camp.

When Monday morning came, and still no trace of the missing ones was apparent, searching parties were organized and the woods scoured in every direction. The efforts were without avail, and, after hours of diligent search in the bush, lasting the entire day, the party returned to camp.

Yesterday morning, the provincial police were notified, and Officer McNeill was detailed to take charge of a second party to scour the woods for the missing young men. Accompanied by several friends of Booth and Gendson, and fully equipped for a three weeks stay, Officer McNeill left on a special train at 4 o'clock, yesterday afternoon.

When his party arrived at Shawnigan Lake, they ascertained that the two lost ones had returned to Fitzgerald's camp a few hours before.

The camp was at once visited, and the good news confirmed, the young men having arrived there at 2 o'clock in an exhausted condition, with clothes tattered and torn, and themselves well-nigh famished.

After receiving the congratulations of all, Booth and Gendron related their adventures, and then, boarding the train, the party returned to the city.

The story, as told by the young men, is as follows: Leaving the camp early Sunday morning, they wandered in search of game, and in a few hours lost their bearings. They were unable to find them Sunday, and were compelled to pass the night in the woods. Monday morning, early, a rain came up which continued throughout the day, and they were at no time able to see the sky. As a consequence, they lost their way entirely. The heavy rain continued, and at last, in sheer hopelessness, the two boys ensconced themselves under a tree and waited for the shower to stop, or for something to turn up.

Not a thing had they had to eat since starting out, and they were nearly starved. Not a berry had they found in their wanderings through the woods or on the mountains, and no game, except bear, had been seen. The latter were frequently observed, but the boys considered it best to let bruin alone, and, as they were not attacked, the shaggy-coated monarch of the forest was permitted to roam unmolested.

Tuesday morning, thoroughly famished and wet to the skin, their clothes in fragments from frequent contact with the heavy undergrowth, Booth and Gendron, ready to give up, heard the screech of the locomotive and the rumble of the railroad cars in close proximity to them.

Eagerly climbing a hill for a view of the surrounding country, they espied Shawnigan lake a short distance off. Descending with all haste they made for the shore, reaching which they soon located the camp they had left 48 hours before, and set out on the journey for it. The lost ones were warmly welcomed at camp, fed to their full and provided with more presentable clothes than the ones they wore.

When the searching party, headed by Officer McNeill, reached them, all hands rejoiced, and about 6 o'clock the start was made for home, the lost but found being none the worse for their experience.

Mr. Moody, one of the searching party, while waiting for the return of the special train, killed a deer that was drinking in the lake, a few yards distant from the camp. The venison was cut up, quartered, and distributed among the party.

CHILD FLOGGING IN WARSAW.

(London Times, July 31.)

A terrible act of brutality perpetrated by the Russian authorities at Warsaw has caused great indignation throughout Poland. As usual, the facts have come out little by little and considerably after date. It was on the 31st of May last that the daughter of General Pouzereff, who is but a child, was playing with a ball in the Saxen gardens at Warsaw. She chanced to meet a boy named Winter, and struck him with her ball. The boy, who was only ten years old, seized the ball and threw it back, probably with some violence. Thereupon the servant in charge of General Pouzereff's child rushed forward, caught the boy Winter, and began to beat him. The boy, however, resisted, hit back at the servant and called her names, which showed that he was a Pole and had been taught to look with contempt upon the Russians. The servant now called for the police, and the boy was taken and locked up all night. A full report of the incident was drawn up and sent to the Governor-General of the province, General Gourko. On the morrow General Gourko replied that the boy must be flogged, and should receive 25 lashes.

According to the law, corporal punishment can only be administered to children by their parents, but Winter's father was dead. The police, therefore, should have applied to the boy's mother. They preferred seeking out Mr. Olchefski, the boy's tutor or guardian. They told Mr. Olchefski that if he did not carry out the sentence they would close his business house, a cafe and confectionery shop. The tutor, fearful that he would lose his means of livelihood, reluctantly consented. The preparations were then made in due form. In accordance with the law the prison doctor was called, then the boy was brought from his cell, stripped, and the flogging began. At the seventh stroke he fainted, and the doctor, interfering, said it would be dangerous to inflict such violent punishment. The boy was of a highly nervous disposition, and the doctor could not answer for his life if such torture was continued. Mr. Olchefski, also, was horror-stricken at the effect the blows had produced. He angrily threw the whip away and said the police might close his cafe and ruin him if they chose, but nothing should persuade him to finish the flogging. Finding that both doctor and tutor remained obdurate, the police and prison authorities sent a despatch to the Governor-General, asking for instructions and relating all that had occurred.

It will scarcely be credited that General Gourko, the hero of the Plevna Pass, at once telegraphed back that the flogging was to be finished. The police, therefore, the tutor persisting in his refusal to act, had to give the unfortunate boy the remaining 18 blows so as to complete the sentence.

Insensible, covered with blood, his flesh torn from his back, and in a state of violent convulsions, this young boy was brought back to his mother. The unhappy woman had all this time been kept in ignorance as to the fate of her son, and the shock that his return in such a condition must have produced upon her feelings may well be imagined. Such cruelty as this, perpetrated for so trivial a reason on a very young child, has naturally greatly exasperated the Polish inhabitants of Warsaw, and it will be no easy matter for the Russians to justify conduct of this description.

CONCERNING GLASS EYES.

Not Always to Be Detected When Seen—The Trade in Them.

"Good glass eyes come high," said an oculist recently to a Buffalo News man.

"Cost a big price, do they?"

"Yes, the good ones do."

"Then there is a good deal of difference?"

"Oh, yes. They range all the way from fifty cents to fifty dollars."

"Is there such a big demand for them?"

"Larger than most people suppose. The fact is that many people get along so well with a glass eye that not one person in ten suspects the fact."

"Some of our friends may be wearing one of those solid visual organs and we do not know it?"

"Precisely. I'll bet that several people in this city with whom you are acquainted are wearing glass eyes, and the fact has always escaped your attention."

"Tell me something about the business, doctor."

"In the first place the greater share of glass eyes, so called, are not glass. The best quality of artificial eyes is manufactured in America by a process that is kept absolutely secret. These are the lightest and best and will last the longer. The Germans also make a fine artificial eye. The best eyes are made of stone. The German article is cheaper than the American. The veining in the foreign eyes is not so well marked."

"What makes the trade profitable?"

"I'll tell you. One-eyed men are likely to be rather scarce, and one would think that having once stocked up they would buy no more. But this is not the case. An artificial eye gets to be a nuisance after it has been on duty two or three months. Another one has to be purchased. This explains the reason for the lively trade in these articles. There'll always be a trade in them, and a good one, too."

"How is it we don't notice a glass eye in some men?"

"Because they know enough to keep still about the matter, and wear the best eyes obtainable. In this way if you notice anything at all peculiar about their optics you imagine they have a squint or are cross-eyed."

Kangaroos in Australia.

A curious fact in connection with the effect of the progress of civilization comes from Australia. It appears that in the older parts of that country the kangaroo is practically exterminated. In Victoria the kangaroos formerly outnumbered the sheep in the proportion of two to one, and old shepherds say that it was not an uncommon thing to see the sheep and the kangaroo feeding together upon the plains, as many as two or three thousand kangaroos frequently accompanying a flock of a thousand sheep. The reduction in the number of kangaroos has materially affected the possibilities of profit on sheep farms, as will be seen from the fact that a "station" which, in 1850, could barely graze five thousand sheep, can now be made to carry forty thousand without any danger of being overstocked.

MANY APPEALS

From the Decision of the City Assessor Laid Before the Court of Revision.

A Full Week's Work Ahead—Decisions Given at Yesterday's Session.

The City Council sat as a court of revision at the City Hall, at 11 a.m., yesterday, His Worship Mayor Grant in the chair, and the full board present.

Over one hundred petitions for the reduction of assessments were presented by property owners, many of whom attended in person or were represented by counsel.

Among the appeals considered were the following:

J. P. Walls, application that assessment on improvements be reduced to $1,000. Granted.

J. E. McMillan, not present, and consideration of application deferred.

Mrs. L. Couves, application for reduction denied, and assessment ordered to stand.

J. H. Todd & Son, protesting against assessment on their property, which was greatly increased over the year 1890; in one instance being more than double, and in all fully 50 per cent. higher for 1891 than for 1890. The assessment was sustained.

W. Morrissey, protesting against assessment of his lot in the Work Estate, at Finlayson's bridge, which was claimed to be a mud flat that would require an expenditure of $1,500 to make a marketable price of real estate. Assessment ordered to stand.

W. T. Collinson, assessed for $900 improvements on lot 8, block 28, claimed the lot to be empty and unimproved. Assessment for improvements ordered taken off.

John Vermouth, appeal from assessed valuation of lot No. 13, South Pandora street, Spring Ridge. Vermouth claimed the assessment was more than he paid for the property. His application was tabled.

S. J. Metts, application for reduction of assessment. Tabled.

Drake, Jackson & Helmcken, for Hon. Justice Crease, alleging overvaluation of the property known as Pentrelew. Adjourned until Thursday.

Isabella Barlow, assessment on improvements, reduced to $600.

G. Richardson, appeal from assessment of lot 223, block 254, at $19,000, and the improvements at $3,000; action deferred.

H. J. Heritage, assessment reduced to $1,350.

S. J. Styles, assessments for improvements on lots 382, 383 and 384, reduced $500. On improvements on lot 388, $200 was taken off.

W. C. Ward, for Bank of B. C., assessment ordered to stand.

G. Hale, assessment on land reduced to $2,000 per acre.

J. E. McMillan, appeal laid over.

The board then adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

VOTING ON BY-LAWS.

Sale of Gravel Pits and Engine House Carried—Appropriations Defeated.

Two by-laws were carried yesterday, and two defeated. Four were voted for. The by-law authorizing the sale of the corporation gravel pits, and the one authorizing the sale of the Deluge engine house on Yates street, were carried; while the two appropriating money from the public treasury, the Electric Light and the Cemetery by-laws, were buried beneath the negative votes of the electors.

The vote was a very light one, scarcely 15 per cent. of the citizens exercising their franchise. The heaviest vote polled was in Johnson street ward, 124. In James Bay ward only 110 ballots were deposited, and only 89 voters of the Yates street ward visited the polls.

The gravel pits by-law received the largest majority, and the electric light by-law was defeated by the greatest. The vote was as follows:

Her Second Divorce.

Mrs. Lillian J. Balke, of Seattle, is suing her husband for divorce in the courts of that city. This is Mrs. Balke's second divorce suit within six months. The plaintiff's maiden name was Lillian E. Osborne, and on June 5, 1890, she married Dr. J. M. Fox, of Seattle, in a runaway match. On February 14, of this year, she was awarded a divorce from him on the ground of cruelty, and by agreement of both parties to the suit secured $5,000 alimony. On March 5 she was married to her present husband, from whom she now wants to be separated, as she charges that he beats her cruelly.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

For September 1891. The numerous exciting events in the yachting world, and the keen popular interest shown this season in the noble sport, make the paper on "New York Yachts and Yachtsmen," in Frank Leslie's popular monthly for September, peculiarly interesting and timely. The illustrations include some spirited views of the wonderful new Herreshoff yacht Gloriana, and a fine portrait of the late Edward Burgess, the lamented designer of the Queen's Cup defenders, etc. This number of the magazine also contains illustrated articles upon the Mare Island Navy Yard, by Ensign J. M. Elliott.

Prof. Tyndall in a Trance.

Prof. Tyndall, who gave a few private exhibitions of mind-reading, in Victoria, a few weeks ago, has, since his departure from this city, been giving exhibitions in Seattle. On Monday morning, during his performance at the Washington street theatre, he fell into a trance, and up to yesterday had not regained consciousness. He was removed to his room, on Washington street, and there he still remains. A physician who was called in alleged that he could do nothing for him. His respiration was regular, his pulse normal, the trance not taking a cataleptic form generally peculiar to mind-readers. However, he had no physicial control over himself. His joints worked like an automaton. His arms, if raised upright from the bed, would remain in that position until pressed down. The fingers, if doubled up or pressed out, would not change their place. Frequently the sleeper's form would convulse with shakings, and then again he would be apparently resting as easy as a sleeping child. On his person was found a letter addressed to "Attending Physician," stating that he was subject to trances, and that he had, at one time, been unconscious for thirty hours. He asked that he be not

THE TURF.

The Kent Derby was run on Monday, and won, under the whip, by the favorite, Malcolm. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer gives the following account of the race: "The Derby was a long time starting, but when the horses did get off, with the single exception of Regal, second choice, they were well bunched clear round the quarter and up by the judge's stand. Jim Murphy won the choice of position, Malcolm was directly outside of him, and the platoon ran, Idaho Chief, Ito, Raindrop, Rosey Lewis, Regal, to the outside of the track. Regal got a bad start, and he was between two and three lengths behind the bunch all the round. He never made up what he lost at the first jump, and tailed off. Raindrop acted wildly for half a mile, and then settled down to pretty steady work. While the horses were scoring there was some trouble distinguishing between Regal and Raindrop, because the semi-professionals did not know the animals by their style, and their colors and descriptions were the same. But after the start was made nobody had any trouble telling them apart. Raindrop was well up, and even promised at the three-quarter post to be a winner, while along in the rear Regal brought up, the blue in his rider's coat and cap flashing like the reflection of a comet on the surface of a tropical ocean. Malcolm led the bunch by a neck around the head of the kite, and between the mile and the finish the race belonged to the colt. Close behind came Idaho Chief, and next Rosey Lewis and Raindrop. This order was kept until the finish, when Raindrop pulled out of the fourth place into third, without throwing Rosey Lewis out of the same relative position. Malcolm finished in 2:12¾, a full length ahead of Idaho Chief, and Rosey Lewis and Raindrop came up and saved half of the entrance fees by dividing third money between them. People who held tickets on Malcolm paid $20 for them. Regal held up to second for $15. Idaho Chief sold at $5, and the rest were bunched to make a $12 field. Mutuals paid $12.20."

To Write Up Victoria.

Professor Whitman, travelling correspondent of the Boston Home Journal, has arrived in Victoria. As a descriptive writer he has attained considerable prominence. His sketches of travel in various parts of the continent are very popular in their style, enter into the many phases of local life and scenery, and are calculated to give an excellent representation of the conditions and the prospects of the localities with which they deal. The Professor is a thorough man of the world, which enables him to get at the many sides of life and thus give a faithful portraiture. It is his intention to remain in Victoria for several days and to contribute some of his breezy and entertaining letters to the paper with which he is associated. One of his articles has already been published, and shows that its writer wields a facile pen, and before committing himself to paper makes himself acquainted with his subject.

"The Haymakers."

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will render the above cantata, on Wednesday evening, the 26th inst., in their hall on Blanchard street. Nothing need be said of the merit of this excellent musical organization. Their achievements in this city under the able leadership of Mr. Brown and Miss Stephen are a guarantee that their present attempt will be worth going to hear. Every music-loving person in Victoria knows is the treat that is annually given at their Burns' concert, and the great musicians and vocalists will remember with pleasure their performance of the sacred cantata of "Daniel." On this occasion they will be assisted by Miss Minna Wolff, contralto; Mrs. McCandless, soprano; Mr. Harry Erskine, tenor; Mr. Grant, tenor, Mr. Kinnaird, humorous tenor; Mr. Gold, bass. The cantata will form the first part of the concert, the second consisting of miscellaneous numbers, and, in addition to the above ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Brown has secured the services of Mr. Clement Rowlands (late of D'Oyley Carte's opera company), and Mr. Ernest Wolff, L.C.M. With such an array of talent, the success of the concert is assured. The arrangements are in the hands of Mr. Brown, and nothing will be left undone for the comfort, convenience and entertainment of those who will attend.

duce Exchange opened, this morning, there was an anxious crowd of brokers present. Reports from Chicago, London, Liverpool, Paris and Berlin indicated an excited feeling, and advances over Saturday's prices were made.

When the gong sounded there was a rush to the wheat pit, and the pandemonium broke out worse. The first bid for December was at $1.17, on advance of 2⅛ cents over Saturday.

September opened at $1.14½, an advance of 1⅛ cents, and May at $1.20, an advance of 1⅛ cents. Within five minutes after the opening the excitement began to decrease, and prices fell off to about Saturday's closing.

STARVING AND DYING.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Hebrews on the East side have been somewhat excited during the last week by a letter from Brazil containing an account of the treatment of the Hebrew immigrants from this country to the province of Maranho. The letter was written by Charles Stein, formerly a peddlar living at 184 Division street. He left for Brazil April 22nd. The letter to Stein's wife is dated July 9th.

"I am at Maranho, Brazil," wrote Stein, "and you do not know what a horrible and unhealthy place it is here. The climate is terrible, and there is almost nothing to eat. Bread is very dear, $18 being the price of a barrel of flour the size of a keg of herring.

"I cannot write you all we suffer here—it would take too long—but I ask of you, my dear wife, the favor that you can and must do me, that is, to go to the Brazilian consul and tell him that he forced me to come here and fooled me. He promised me seven acres of land, a house, horse, three oxen, tools and a year's aid. It is all false; they make us slaves here.

"The governor of the town puts us to building railroads. They promised us in New York to give married men $37 a month and single men $25, but they only promised in order to get us here. We came, and instead of the promised wages we get only $12 a month, and on that we cannot live. We are starving and dying.

"Every day there is some victim of the yellow fever. We cannot get enough boxes to bury the poor people dying every day and we will fight against them.

"Another order came from the government July 8, but we receive no money, only this terrible food. There is nothing for us to do but to die or fight."

Stein is a naturalized American citizen. On Monday a cable message was received at the Brazilian consulate from the government with orders to allow no more emigrants to sail for Brazil No reason for such an order was given.

NOT "VENOMED."

We can assure our Nanaimo contemporary that there is not a trace of "venom" in what we say with respect to the Wellington strike and matters connected with it; and we attack no one in a "rabid" or any other way. The comments which we made on the speech attributed to Mr. Tully Boyce were, we think, such as any fair-minded person of common sense should make. Every sensible man must see that neither violence nor vindictiveness should enter into business transactions. How much business would be done if it were customary for one of the parties to a bargain to take the other by the throat, telling him to do what he demanded or by all that is good, or all that is bad, he would choke the life out of him? Yet, is not this something like the attitude which the Nanaimo Miners' Association has taken with regard to the Wellington mine-owners? To tell them that this is not the way for civilized and intelligent men to do business, is surely not attacking them, or doing them harm in any way. It is, indeed, quite the reverse. Surely the Free Press can see that if the methods adopted by the Association were generally practised, a stop would very soon be put to the transaction of all business. If men who have money found that they could not invest it in mines or factories or industries of any kind in which large numbers of work-people were employed without, in case of non-compliance with their demands, being exposed to such evils as the Wellington mine owners were threatened with at the Nanaimo meeting, enterprise would be completely killed and they would not risk their means in new undertakings.

No class of men suffer so severely from slackness or stagnation in business as the wage-earners. It is not, therefore, for them to pursue a policy which is calculated to give men of capital serious cause for alarm. This Wellington strike is a case in point. Who has suffered most from it—the wage-earners or the capitalists? And was the object sought worth the suffering and the sacrifices that were made? If the men had not struck they could have been earning high wages and would have received good treatment. They and their families would have enjoyed all the comforts that can be obtained by miners who have constant employment at fair rates, and, as regards the adoption of pit committees by the mine owners, they would have been quite as far ahead as they are now, and, perhaps, further. Business men do not oppose a change for the sake of mere opposition. If pit committees are found to work well when they have been tried, they will soon be generally adopted without the losses, the annoyances, and the sacrifices consequent upon strikes. And, if they do not work well, both employers and employed will be pleased that the experiment was tried for them by others. We trust that there is no venom in this, and that in taking this view of the Wellington contest we are not attacking any one.

The Free Press says that Mr. Tully Boyce did not use the language attributed to him. We are glad to hear that. But how is it that Mr. Boyce has not repudiated the report of his speech that was published in the Times?

The version which the Free Press gives of Mr. Boyce's remarks, though not so savagely revengeful in tone as are those that appeared in the Times' report, was not such as might be expected from a man who has the interests of the miners at heart. Here is what the Free Press says—on whose authority it does not state—was the concluding sentence of Mr. Boyce's speech:

"He (Mr. Boyce) then stated that he believed the boycott which had been placed on Wellington coal in California by the Federated Trades was effectually working, and he believed that it would not take years to bring the Dunsmuirs to terms or be compelled to close down."

Well, if the contest resulted in "closing down," who would be benefitted? Certainly not the miners. They would have no work, and the province would be deprived of the benefit derivable from the working of the Wellington mines. It would be a poor satisfaction to miners to see the Wellington coal mines closed, and the miners and the host of other working people, whose living depends upon their continued activity, sent adrift upon the world to seek the means of existence. Yet, there is nothing surer than that the policy of intolerance and revenge which the Nanaimo men favor will, if followed up, result in closing not only the Wellington mines, but other mines and other industrial undertakings which, if carried on on sound business principles, would enrich the country and be the means of supporting thousands in comfort.

We wish, before we conclude this article, which we hope is not "venomed," to correct a slight mistake that our contemporary has made. It says, not very accurately to be sure, that the Dunsmuirs and the COLONIST are "synonomous terms." This is very far, indeed, from being the case. The signification of the two terms is altogether different. What the COLONIST says about the Nanaimo meeting and the Wellington strike is in the interest of the whole community, including the Nanaimo miners. The "Dunsmuirs" have had no more to do with it than the editor of the Free Press himself. We wish it to be distinctly understood that the COLONIST is alone responsible—in every sense—for what appears in its editorial columns.

THE RAMBLING ORGAN.

We are beginning to think that the Times does not expect its articles on Dominion and Provincial politics to be taken seriously. Its utterances on those subjects are very far indeed from being couched in words of truth and soberness. It is perfectly reckless with regard to the assertions it makes, and it deals with subjects of all kinds in the most trifling and frothy manner.

Its second article on the way in which Mr. Earle performed his parliamentary duties is a piece of journalistic hodge-podge. It is, indeed, a curious mixture, and has almost as little relevancy to the work that Mr. Earle did during the present session of the Dominion Parliament as it has to Mr. Robertson's lecture on agriculture in Canada. It has ceased to accuse Mr. Earle of not looking after the commercial interests of Victoria, and, instead of showing what grounds it had for that accusation, it bores its readers with a screed on the relative importance of harbor improvements. Nothing that could be obtained in Ottawa is worth mentioning compared with harbor improvements. What the paramount importance of harbor works has to do with Mr. Earle's diligence and fidelity as a representative of the people, our contemporary does not so much as hint. If every word of the Times' rigmarole were as true as it is silly, there is nothing in the article to show that Mr. Earle did not do everything that it was in his power to do while in Ottawa to promote and advance the interests of the City of Victoria—the improvement of the harbor, as well as other matters.

Then there is some nonsense about the fishery commission, and the favor in which Mr. Wilmot is held in Ottawa. Whether the canners and the COLONIST are flattered by the appointment of Mr. Wilmot as one of the Commissioners is a matter with which Mr. Earle has nothing to do, and for which no one is so foolish as to hold him responsible.

There is also a lot of bosh about reciprocity, in which the leaders of the Conservative party are accused of stealing the Liberal trade policy. What has Mr. Earle to do with this alleged act of petty larceny? But, if our contemporary took a little time to think, it would have remembered that the mission of the Canadian Ministers to Washington was promised by Sir John Macdonald, some time previous to the last general election, and that one of the planks of the Conservative platform was a reasonable measure of reciprocity with the United States, if it could be obtained. But our feather-headed contemporary never takes the trouble to think. It rattles on careless, whether what it says is true or false—sense or nonsense.

The next jump is to the Esquimalt dock. It tells us that it prefers a new dock to an extension of the present one, and then fretfully complains because the Imperial Government has the right to use the dock for the repair of ships of war. Here again, our contemporary's shallowness and want of thought is very conspicuous. In the first place, the Imperial Government has paid for the use of the dock. It contributed $250,000 towards its construction. But, if it had not done this, would the Dominion Government do anything more than it ought to do if it provided free of charge dock accommodation for the ships that are sent here to protect us and to remind the nations of the world that the country which hurts any part of Canada hurts Great Britain. Besides, is it for a newspaper published in Victoria, which derives so many and such substantial advantages from being a naval station of Great Britain, to complain because a man-of-war now and then occupies the dry dock? Even when it is whining in this unreasonable and ungrateful way, the Times does not stick to the truth. It asserts that the Imperial Government virtually owns the dry dock. Everyone knows that this is not true. For, by far the greater part of the time the dock is open to merchant ships of all kinds and all nations, and, as a matter of fact, many of them avail themselves of the conveniences it affords them. The Esquimalt dry dock, even as it is, is of great advantage to the commerce of the Province, but, if it is not, in what way would Mr. Earle be to blame?

MIGHT OR RIGHT?

The little breeze about the seizure of the steamer City of Panama will, no doubt, soon blow over. The small republic of San Salvador is too weak and too insignificant to hold its own in a dispute with, what is considered, par excellence, the "Great Republic." Might is still, in too many instances, Right in this wicked world. The question involved is the right of a nation to exercise jurisdiction over the ships that are in its harbors, no matter what flag they fly. The City of Panama, when in the harbor of La Union, had on board passengers whom the Government of San Salvador regarded as offenders against the laws of the country. An attempt was made to arrest those offenders, which was resisted by the captain of the steamship. When the City of Panama was ready to leave, the customs authorities of La Union refused to give her captain the usual clearance papers. After waiting some hours in port, the steamship sailed without her clearance. When she arrived at La Libertad, another port of San Salvador, the City of Panama was declared confiscated because of her resistance to the law of the land, and papers to that effect were served on her captain. No violence was used in either port, nor was any attempt made to detain her forcibly. The Salvadorean authorities did only what was necessary to assert what they considered the law of nations when it was set at naught by the American sea captain. It is said that the passengers on board the American steamship were political offenders and not ordinary criminals. Admitting this to be the case, can foreign ships be made an asylum for political offenders against the nation in whose territory the harbor is situated? If, for instance, when Dillon and O'Brien were making their escape to France, they had taken refuge in an American steamship lying in one of the harbors of Ireland, could not the officers of the law have pursued them there, and could they not have compelled the captain to give the men up? There would not have been in that case any question as to the competency of the British officers of the law to take the men, and if it were necessary, to use force. But circumstances alter cases. Great Britain is different from San Salvador, and what was done with impunity in La Union would not be attempted, say in the Cove of Cork.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE Dominion Government has, we learn, offered the Indian Reserve to the Corporation for $300,000. Those who profess to know all about the Reserve and the tenure by which it is held by the Indians of the Songish tribe, assert that the Dominion Government has no right to sell the land. They maintain that it is held in trust for the Indians, and that neither they nor the Government have the power to dispose of it to a third party.

ON FIRE WITH ECZEMA.

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about three dollars per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

Died in Peru.

The news has just reached Victoria of the death at Lima, Peru, on last New Year's day, of Mr. George O. Raymur, of this city. The deceased was 28 years of age, a son of the late James A. Raymur, of Victoria, and a younger brother of Jas. L. Raymur.

Those Wishing to Profit

As so many have already done, by the sale going on at Jackson's tailoring establishment, 68 Douglas street, had better do so at once. Invoices have arrived for fall goods, which as soon as they arrive will stop the sale of the goods at the present low prices. These goods are positively cheap, especially to those who buy ready made clothing. tf

From Cardiff.

The British ship Queen Victoria, Capt. Holmes, arrived at Esquimalt, last evening, in tow of the tug Lorne, with all well on board. She is 123 days out from Cardiff, with 2,600 tons of coal for the navy, which will be at once discharged. The Victoria will probably secure a return cargo of salmon. She is of 1,587 tons register, classed 100 A1 in Lloyd's. Her trip just completed was marked by continuous fine weather.

Richard's Himself Again.

Mr. Thomas W. Keene begins his season on the 27th of this month, at Wheeling, West Virginia. He plays directly west to Puget Sound and the Pacific Slope. Mr. Keene's success in this territory last season was phenomenally good, and it is expected that his receipts this season will be the largest of any attraction playing through. His company is complete and is the strongest he has ever had in his support. He, himself, is in excellent health.—"Richard is himself again,"—to the delight of his many thousand friends.

The Samaritan Home.

This establishment, situated on Rae street, is ready for occupants, and on the arrival of a matron will be opened. Women wishing to enter the home will communicate with the president, Mrs Higgins, Cadboro Bay road. Persons unable to pay for treatment will be attended without charge. The necessity that exists for this home will be understood when it is stated that lying-in patients are not treated at the Jubilee Hospital. Two trained nurses have expressed an intention to reside at the home.

Labor Day.

Henry Leland, secretary of the Labor Day committee of the Western Central Labor Union, spent yesterday in Victoria, arranging for the representation of Victoria's labor organizations at the parade, picnic and ball, on September the 7th. The parade takes place in Seattle, at 9 a.m., and will consist of three divisions, the first of which, consisting of all visiting Unions, promises to be the largest body of men marching together in one company on the Coast. The picnic and subsequent festivities are to be held at Saunder's Point, selected out of thirty-five places visited, for its superior natural advantages.

Her Second Divorce.

Mrs. Lillian J. Balke, of Seattle, is suing her husband for divorce in the courts of that city. This is Mrs. Balke's second divorce suit within six months. The plaintiff's maiden name was Lillian E. Osborne, and on June 5, 1890, she married Dr. J. M. Fox, of Seattle, in a runaway match. On February 14, of this year, she was awarded a divorce from him on the ground of cruelty, and by agreement of both parties to the suit secured $5,000 alimony. On March 5 she was married to her present husband, from whom she now wants to be separated, as she charges that he beats her cruelly.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

For September 1891. The numerous exciting events in the yachting world, and the keen popular interest shown this season in the noble sport, make the paper on "New York Yachts and Yachtsmen," in Frank Leslie's popular monthly for September, peculiarly interesting and timely. The illustrations include some spirited views of the wonderful new Herreshoff yacht Gloriana, and a fine portrait of the late Edward Burgess, the lamented designer of the Queen's Cup defenders, etc. This number of the magazine also contains illustrated articles upon the Mare Island Navy Yard, by Ensign J. M. Elliott.

Prof. Tyndall in a Trance.

Prof. Tyndall, who gave a few private exhibitions of mind-reading, in Victoria, a few weeks ago, has, since his departure from this city, been giving exhibitions in Seattle. On Monday morning, during his performance at the Washington street theatre, he fell into a trance, and up to yesterday had not regained consciousness. He was removed to his room, on Washington street, and there he still remains. A physician who was called in alleged that he could do nothing for him. His respiration was regular, his pulse normal, the trance not taking a cataleptic form generally peculiar to mind-readers. However, he had no physicial control over himself. His joints worked like an automaton. His arms, if raised upright from the bed, would remain in that position until pressed down. The fingers, if doubled up or pressed out, would not change their place. Frequently the sleeper's form would convulse with shakings, and then again he would be apparently resting as easy as a sleeping child. On his person was found a letter addressed to "Attending Physician," stating that he was subject to trances, and that he had, at one time, been unconscious for thirty hours. He asked that he be not buried until it is known for a certainty that he is dead, and if it is proven that there is no life in his body he gives the doctors permission to examine his brain.

Very Successful.

A cablegram contains the information that Hon. J. H. Turner, minister of finance, has been very successful in placing the British Columbia loan on the London market, and that he may be expected back in Victoria in a couple of weeks.

For Victoria.

The following passengers left San Francisco, yesterday morning, on the steamer Walla Walla, for this port: A. Higgins, J. Dernsdale and wife, H. C. King, Miss J. Fowler, Mrs. J. Summers, J. Bernmallack, Mrs. E. Whitworth, B. Miller, C. B. Brown, J. D. McGibbons, H. Humme, J. F. McKenzie, Mrs. A. Schnett.

B. C. Paper Co.

A general meeting of the recently organized British Columbia Paper Co. was held in this city, Monday, when the undermentioned were elected as provisional officers: W. P. Sayward, president; Joshua Davies, vice-president; H. Carmichael, general manager and secretary; W. P. Sayward, Joshua Davies, Thomas Shotbolt, J. Thomson and J. S. Yates, directors.

Church Opening.

Arrangements have been made with the E. & N. railway company for excursion trains to Chemainus, from both ends of the line, on Saturday, August 29th. The special attraction is the consecration of the new church of St. Michael and All Angels by the Lord Bishop of Columbia, assisted by the clergy of the diocese. A banquet will be spread and the day will be made memorable in many ways.

We Have to Offer

At the following reasonable prices: Work Estate—lots $750 and $800 each. Victoria West—lots from $400 up. James Bay—lots $700 and $900 each. Improved property, yielding 20 per cent. interest on investment. Lots on Oak Bay avenue, $400 each, and a large list of other property in all parts of the city. Insurance, conveyancing, money to loan, &c. Morrow, Holland & Co., 44 Broad street.

All Is Not Gold That Glitters,

But here are a few figures: Five years I rented a house and have paid $30 a month, or $1,800. Lots then, in that locality, were worth $500; to-day they are selling at $1,200, so I am out just $2,500. But while there is life there is hope, and seeing that YOUNG, BARTLETT & CO., at No. 9 Trounce Avenue, are offering five to nine room cottages with from $1 to $5 cash down and $25 a month, 8 per cent. on deferred payments. 6m-jy18

Mt. Hood in a State of Eruption.

Reports have reached Portland that Mount Hood is in a state of eruption. Smoke could be seen issuing from the mountain, and it is generally believed that the hoary old monarch of the Cascades is awakening from a sleep of centuries. The Indians have traditions that go to show that the mountain was once in a state of activity. The crater itself is evidence of this. Several distinct earthquake shocks were also heard about 5 o'clock, on Monday, and many of the citizens feel considerably alarmed. Mount Hood is only fifty-two miles from Portland in a straight line.

Firemen's Meeting.

The firemen held a meeting last evening to make arrangements for the forthcoming tournament. A committee, consisting of the chief, assistant and firemen, was appointed to receive the visiting teams. A decoration committee, consisting of the members of each company was appointed to decorate the engines and other apparatus. The members decided to purchase uniforms at their own expense, and will appear in the parade with the apparatus. The visiting firemen will parade with their running uniforms and hose wheels. The questions of music and entertainment were laid over for consideration by the general committee.

To Write Up Victoria.

Professor Whitman, travelling correspondent of the Boston Home Journal, has arrived in Victoria. As a descriptive writer he has attained considerable prominence. His sketches of travel in various parts of the continent are very popular in their style, enter into the many phases of local life and scenery, and are calculated to give an excellent representation of the conditions and the prospects of the localities with which they deal. The Professor is a thorough man of the world, which enables him to get at the many sides of life and thus give a faithful portraiture. It is his intention to remain in Victoria for several days and to contribute some of his breezy and entertaining letters to the paper with which he is associated. One of his articles has already been published, and shows that its writer wields a facile pen, and before committing himself to paper makes himself acquainted with his subject.

"The Haymakers."

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will render the above cantata, on Wednesday evening, the 26th inst., in their hall on Blanchard street. Nothing need be said of the merit of this excellent musical organization. Their achievements in this city under the able leadership of Mr. Brown and Miss Stephen are a guarantee that their present attempt will be worth going to hear. Every music-loving person in Victoria knows the treat that is annually given at their Burns' concert, and the great majority of musicians and vocalists will remember with pleasure their performance of the sacred cantata of "Daniel." On this occasion they will be assisted by Miss Minna Wolff, contralto; Mrs. McCandless, soprano; Mr. Harry Erskine, tenor; Mr. Grant, tenor, Mr. Kinnaird, humorous tenor; Mr. Gold, bass. The cantata will form the first part of the concert, the second consisting of miscellaneous numbers, and, in addition to the above ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Brown has secured the services of Mr. Clement Rowlands (late of D'Oyley Carte's opera company), and Mr. Ernest Wolff, L.C.M. With such an array of talent, the success of the concert is assured. The arrangements are in the hands of Mr. Brown, and nothing will be left undone for the comfort, convenience and entertainment of those who will attend.

Forewarned is Forearmed.

MANY of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., come suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Seattle Cricketers Will Visit Victoria—Malcolm, Winner of the Kent Derby.

The opening of the annual tournament of the Victoria Lawn Tennis club attracted many to the courts on Belcher street, yesterday afternoon, where, although the grounds were a trifle slow in consequence of the recent rains, a better standard of play than in any recent year was witnessed. The tournament will be continued to-day, play commencing at 11 a.m.

The first event of yesterday's programme was the open singles, for which all the contestants entered, with the exception of Mr. Crickmay, put in an appearance. Stanhope beat Ward, 6-1, 6-0; Morley defeated W. Langley, 6-3, 6-2; Alexander vanquished Marshall, 6-1, 6-2; and A. Langley was overthrown by Coombe, 6 0, 6-1. Foulkes conquered Worsfold, 6 2, 6-3; and Walker, Chrickmay, by default. Dean beat Hayes, 6-3, 6 4; and Cuppage, Hills, 6 0, 4-6, 6-0. This ended the first round; in the second but one match was played, Alexander, to the surprise of almost everyone, beating Coombe, 6-5, 2-6, 6-1. Cuppage, Dean, Foulkes, Stanhope and Alexander are the best men left, and the contest between them will be keen. Stanhope plays Morley this morning, and the winner engages Alexander. One of the best matches, to-day, is expected to be that between Dean and Cuppage.

In the ladies' singles, Miss Crease beat Mrs. Baillie-Grohman, and in the handicap singles, Marshall beat Stanhope, Worsfold beat Pemberton, and W. Langley beat Ward.

CRICKET.

The Seattle Field Club's eleven will play in Victoria, on August 29, with the representative eleven of the V.C.C. The make-up of the eleven which will uphold Seattle's honor, will, with one or two exceptions, be the same as played against Tacoma, last Saturday. The following will compose the eleven: W. Stirling, o. R. Burrill, — Hudson, R. H. J. Pennefather, W. G. Dickinson, G. Atkinson, H. L. Gulline, E. W. Houghton, T. Carmichael, two members to be chosen.

BASEBALL.

A game of baseball at the Eleventh street grounds, Tacoma, with brilliant illumination by forty are lights, is the promise for some night this week. The game will be between Tacoma and Spokane. A game played under similar conditions at Spokane some time ago proved a financial success.

The James Bay club have decided not to play next Saturday with the V.A.C.'s, owing to the inability of Pitcher Jackson to take part.

Manager Baker, of the Amities, yesterday, wired the Seattle Maroons terms for a game on the Caledonian Grounds, Saturday, and there is every prospect of the Maroons accepting.

The Amities will be able to put on a strong team, and as the Seattle club is the leading amateur baseball club on Puget Sound, a first-class exhibition of baseball will result. All Amity players will turn out for practice on the grounds, to-night, and on Thursday night. After Thursday's practice, a meeting will be held at the V.A. Club to arrange matters in general, and to receive the financial report.

The return match between the Nanaimos and V.A.C.'s has been fixed for Saturday, the 29th inst.

Pitcher Oldershaw, late of Vancouver, has joined the V.A.C.'s, and will, no doubt, prove a valuable acquisition.

WRESTLING.

NANAIMO, Aug. 17.—(Special to THE COLONIST.)—A wrestling match between D. S. McLeod and Archie takes place at Wellington, next Thursday evening. The match is for $250 a side, McLeod to throw his opponent six times in an hour.

THE TURF.

The Kent Derby was run on Monday, and won, under the whip, by the favorite, Malcolm. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer gives the following account of the race: "The Derby was a long time starting, but when the horses did get off, with the single exception of Regal, second choice, they were well bunched clear round the quarter and up by the judge's stand. Jim Murphy won the choice of position, Malcolm was directly outside of him, and the platoon ran, Idaho Chief, Ito, Raindrop, Rosey Lewis, Regal, to the outside of the track. Regal got a bad start, and he was between two and three lengths behind the bunch all the round. He never made up what he lost at the first jump, and tailed off. Raindrop acted wildly for half a mile, and then settled down to pretty steady work. While the horses were scoring there was some trouble distinguishing between Regal and Raindrop, because the semi-professionals did not know the animals by their style, and their colors and descriptions were the same. But after the start was made nobody had any trouble telling them apart. Raindrop was well up, and even promised at the three-quarter post to be a winner, while along in the rear Regal brought up, the blue in his rider's coat and cap flashing like the reflection of a comet on the surface of a tropical ocean. Malcolm led the bunch by a neck around the head of the kite, and between the mile and the finish the race belonged to the colt. Close behind came Idaho Chief, and next Rosey Lewis and Raindrop. This order was kept until the finish, when Raindrop pulled out of the fourth place into third, without throwing Rosey Lewis out of the same relative position. Malcolm finished in 2:12¾, a full length ahead of Idaho Chief, and Rosey Lewis and Raindrop came up and saved half of the entrance fees by dividing third money between them. People who held tickets on Malcolm paid $20 for them. Regal held up to second for $15. Idaho Chief sold at $5, and the rest were bunched to make a $12 field. Mutuals paid $12.20."

THE WHEEL.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17.—The five mile tandem record of the world, 14:02½, was lowered to-day by V. J. Kelly and J. H. Draper to 13:10.

THE GUN.

The last shoot for classification in the match for the Curtiss and Harvey prizes takes place at the Driving Park at 1:15 this afternoon. Minor, Hewlings, Short and Maclure are the leaders. The grand battle takes place on the 29th.

HERE AND THERE.

The lacrosse boys are hard at work preparing to meet the Vancouverites on the 5th of next month. Regular practice will begin this evening. A letter has been received from Portland requesting the team to visit that city during the exposition.

The race between J. Sluggett and T. Peck, at Nanaimo, last evening, resulted in a draw.

A Costly Shot.

Three sports hired a horse and light wagon at Courtney's stables on Friday evening, and left for a couple of days sport. They returned very late Monday night, with nine deer and a badly wounded horse. On returning home the gun, which was lying in the bottom of the wagon, went off, and the full charge of shot passed through the dash board and into the horse. The animal was one of the best in the stables, and was valued at about $300.

The Odd Fellows' Excursion.

Considerable alterations being in progress on the steamer Victorian, it has been found to be impossible for her to convey the Odd Fellows to Seattle on Saturday. In consequence the favorite steamer Olympian will take the place of the sister boat, the appearances being that heavy demands will be made upon her licensed carrying capacity, upon which it is not the intention to infringe. The fare being only $1.50, all who wish to go should make their arrangements at once, otherwise they may be too late.

Under False Pretences.

James Bennett appeared before Mr. A. L. Belyea, in yesterday's police court, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. On Saturday last, Bennett went into the White House and bought some goods, for which he presented a cheque on a city bank, which the clerk cashed. When the cheque was taken to the bank, on Monday morning, the cashier refused to cash it. Bennett, in his defence, said he deposited some money in the bank, Monday, but the store clerk got there before he did.

The case was remanded till Thursday, the accused being released on $250 bail.

CHANGE OF CLIMATE.

Unusual Rains in the Southern California Mountains, Due to the Desert Lake.

Green Pastures Where Desert Sands Shifted a Few Months Ago—An Ancient Canal.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 17.—Storms are raging daily in the mountains near this city. Yesterday it rained several hours at Cucumanga, but not hard. This afternoon heavy storms, with thunder and lightning, were noticed in the mountains coming down into the valley. Above Redlands, at 3.30, a large body of water came down Mill creek and through Redlands, washing out the Redlands moter road in several places and doing some damage on the Barton tract. It is now generally believed that these continued storms and the sultry weather which has lasted ever since July 1, with one short interval, has been the result of the flooding of the Colorado desert. If this continued, permanently, it will result in more water in the mountains for irrigating purposes, but the summer climate will be less pleasant.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug 17.—H. W. Patton, who undertook an expedition to determine the source of Salton lake, going from Yume down the Colorado river to the break in the banks, is in the city. He says he is positive the lake will be permanent. At present it is falling, but each slight rise in the river adds to the volume of water in the lake, and now that a well-defined channel has been washed out, the water from the river would flow directly to the lake, instead of spreading all over the country before finding its way to the basin. The break in the river bank is at an old lagoon about seventeen miles south of Yuma, in Mexican territory. From there to the lake the channel is from 100 feet to half a mile wide, and of sufficient depth to carry an immense body of water. The soil through which the channel has cut its way is a very rich and fertile sandy loam. For miles and miles the sand of the desert has been washed into the channel, leaving the soil exposed.

The water has deposited vast quantities of quelite seed and 100,000 acres are a waving sea of green pasturage. At one place the channel was found to pass between two rows of huge mesquite trees in a perfectly straight line, over a distance of twenty miles. Between the rows of trees the water is nearly twenty feet in depth, while on either side it had an average of five feet. Mr. Patton asserts that the trees and channel mark the line of an ancient irrigating ditch, by whom used no man can tell. In speaking of the general effects of the overflow, Mr. Patton said they would be both detrimental and beneficial. In explaining the paradox, he said:

At Banning we had in a comparatively short time four rains. Then there were terrible rains in the mountains above Redlands, and a heavy fall at Campo, all unprecedented at this time of year. I am satisfied they are the direct results of Salton lake. These rains come at a time when they are not needed, just in harvest time, and when the raisin crop is maturing. On the other hand, it will bring into the market and under cultivation an immense amount of territory unproductive and sterile. From the break in the river to Salton lake is 360 miles, and it consists of the finest soil imaginable. The water is amply sufficient to furnish irrigation for hundreds and hundreds of thousands of acres. At present about one-fifth of the water in the Colorado river is flowing through the channel into the lake at Salton, but with the next heavy raise it would not be surprising to see almost the entire volume of water in the river turned into this channel. At Yuma, when we left, the thermometer on the boat registered 112 deg. in the shade, but at no time during the five days that we were sailing across the country did it rise above 82 deg.

PRESSURE ON CHINA.

The Powers Demand Discontinuance of Outrages—Secret Societies Desire an Attack by Europeans, so That the Empire May Fall.

TIEN TSIN, Aug. 17.—The ministers of the foreign powers have increased the pressure which has been placed upon the Chinese government, insisting upon the punishment of the rioters and of the officials who neglected to afford protection to foreigners and their property. The foreign ministers do not demand pecuniary indemnity, having already settled that with the local authorities.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Standard says: Should China persist in her present attitude grave consequences threaten, and no one sees the issue. This is what the shrewder of the Kolao and other secret societies desire. They hope to involve the government with foreign powers and thus distract it, knowing that if the powers attack China the empire will probably collapse and the whole country fall into a state of anarchy, which may not be suppressed in our time. Happily European diplomats understand this condition of affairs, and knowing how desperately fragile is the imperial authority in China, will persuade others to deal with the matter in a gingerly manner.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 17.—It is no use disguising the fact that a serious state of affairs exists in this country over the retaliation on foreigners and others. The combined fleets of the powers may be called upon at any moment to take effective action looking to redress for the outrages by the Chinese government. At present a state of great excitement prevails at the increasing tension between the Chinese government and the ministers of the foreign powers. From all appearances, the former is obstinate in its refusal to redress the injuries done to foreigners during the recent riots. If the Chinese authorities do not yield to the firm demands of the ministers of the powers, concerted hostile action on the part of the vessels of the various nations represented in these waters is imminent. Such a state of affairs is known to exist, and hence foreign ministers have been compelled to inform the Chinese government that a joint naval demonstration of an effective nature, in which the French, American, British and German squadrons will take part, will be ordered in the near future unless speedy reparation be made for injuries, outrages and abuses complained of by the ministers of the powers.

A CHILIAN MANIFESTO.

Revolutionists Charge Balmaceda With Lying and Squandering National Funds—A New Intrigue.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The last mail from Panama brings a copy of the manifesto issued by the executive council of Chilean revolutionists, dated June 15th last.

The manifesto accuses Balmaceda of lying, when he stated that the men-of-war of every nation were in pursuit of the insurgent vessels and had captured some of them. The action of Balmaceda, both military and civil, are mentioned in a sarcastic manner. Speaking of Balmaceda's policy, the manifesto says:

"The dictator squandered $20,000,000 left in the national vaults by the previous administrations. He emitted $12,000,000 in paper money, and recently has been authorized by his so-called congress to emit $6,000,000 more. Besides all this, he uses $20,000,000 unfairly appropriated from the issues of the banks. This vast amount of money has not been used to purchase war materials with which to resist revolution, but has been used in paying spies and for bribery.

"Naturally and logically the credit of Chile will suffer from the effects of such proceedings. The dictator, contemplating the fate that threatens him, has essayed a new intrigue to delay the evil day, and has proposed an armistice to the congressional party through the American admiral. The leaders of the revolution reject it with contempt. We ask our friends to have entire confidence in the outcome."

NEW GOLD AND SILVER EXTRACTION PROCESS.

(Ayr Advertiser, July 30.)

Mr John Cunninghame Montgomerie, of Dalmore, Ayrshire, in conjunction with Mr. Henry Parkes, of London, have discovered a process for the extraction of gold and silver from the refractory gold and silver sulphide ores of the Champion mines, in the Thames district of New Zealand. These ores are well known to be of a very refractory nature, and all the processes now in use have failed to treat them satisfactorily. The best results that have been obtained in former trials were by a process which took 16 hours in treatment, with an extracting power of from 85 to 87 per cent. of gold, and from 72 to 86 per cent. of silver. During the past few months Mr. Montgomerie has personally carried out a large number of experiments at his "Tam o' Shanter" Hone Works on this ore, with the result that he has reduced the time of treatment from 16 hours to 4 hours, and with an extracting power of from 95 to 99 per cent. of gold, and from 90 to 95 per cent. of silver. From trials on two special grades of the Champion sulphide ores, the following results have been obtained without the ore being calcined:—Ore assaying 2 oz. 1 dwt. 11 grains gold, and 39 oz. 4 dwts. 21 grains silver, 98 per cent. of the gold and 93½ per cent. of the silver were extracted; and from ore assaying 2 oz. 9 dwts. gold, and 59 oz. 19 dwts. 7 grains silver, as high as 99 62 per cent. of the gold 95.39 per cent. of the silver have been taken out. In working out the best method for the treatment of these ores a number of valuable data have been arrived at, whereby the ore can be brought to yield up its precious metals, and some of these are specially adapted for certain refractory ores other than those of the type of the Champion ores. It is believed that one or other of the processes which have been discovered will treat a wide range of the various ores which are now but indifferently treated, and those of a slightly refractory nature may be treated easily with the highest results.

AMERICAN NEWS.

For the Featherweight Championship.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A special to the Police Gazette from Denver, says the backer of Danny Daly, of that city, has issued a challenge in behalf of Daly for a fight with Geo. Dixon, for $2,500 a side and the featherweight championship of the world.

Stole $100,000.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 17.—A great sensation was caused here, this afternoon, by the arrest of J. D. Day, on a warrant sworn out by State Treasurer Morrow, charging him with the larceny of $100,000. Day was a clerk, employed by the bondsmen of ex-State Treasurer Woodruff to examine the books of the defaulting State Treasurer.

The Schooner Ethel Seized.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Capt. Hooper, commander of the U. S. S. Corwin, reports to Capt. Shepherd, chief of the Revenue Marine service, Treasury Department, under date of Ounalaska, July 30th, the capture, near the seal islands, July 28th, of the schooner Ethel, from San Diego, Cala. The Ethel was found completely fitted for sealing, with boats, guns, ammunition, salt, etc. She had on board, when captured, 181 salted fur sealskins, 29 fresh fur sealskins, 11 unborn pup sealskins, two sea otter skins, one hair sealskin and 200 pounds of whalebone. Prior to seizing the Ethel, Capt. Hooper had warned the vessel to leave, and left copies of the President's proclamation to that effect. Within three hours afterward firing was heard from the Ethel, and when the Corwin bore down upon her, near the Ethel was a school of seals, and, with launched boats, she was slaughtering them right and left.

German Catholic Knights.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 16.—The German Catholic Knights of America met in the thirty-sixth annual convention here this morning, 600 delegates being present. They were welcomed by Mayor Tyler and afterwards celebrated mass at St. Boniface church. This afternoon and evening a picnic was held in Phœnix Hill park. The knights will be in session four days. Delegates are here from twenty-two states. It is estimated that 25,000 visitors will be in the city.

Newport Yacht Racing.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug 17. — The annual sweepstakes of the New Yark Corinthian Yacht club was sailed to-day, and resulted very satisfactory for the Gleniana, Queen second, Beatrice third.

Successful Temperance Crusade.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 16. — Francis Murphy has just concluded the most remarkable temperance revival in the history of Montana. Three weeks he labored day and night, and in that time more than 3,000 people, or fully one-sixth of the entire population, signed his pledge of total abstinence and donned the blue ribbon. In a typical Western town, built on the site of the famous "Last Chance" placer mining camp, this is a wonderful showing. After a short rest Mr. Murphy will grapple Bacchus in his own stronghold, the greatest mining camp on earth, Butte City. From there he will go on west to the Sound cities and down to California. As in other places Mr. Murphy has been rabidly attacked by the red-hot prohibitienists, for he neither advocates nor believes in that doctrine.

"Prohibition has failed wherever tried," said Mr. Murphy in an interview with a local newspaper man. "Kind words, encouragement, love and God's help alone can prevail upon men to quit the use of intoxicating liquors." Mr. Murphy has never done much work in the Western mining and live stock countries, and he considers his success in Helena among the most notable of his long career.

A Motorneer Murdered.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 17.—While Conductor Ward and Motorneer John Hemming were waiting at the end of the line before beginning their return trip to-night, two men came from the front and told them to "hold up" their hands. Hemming said "I guess not," and went out on the platform. A short scuffle ensued. A shot was heard, and Hemming rolled from the car down an embankment mortally wounded, dying about half an hour afterwards. The electric company offers a reward of $500 for the murderer, and 30 men on horseback are scouring the country. Later—Two men have just been arrested suspected of being the murderers.

Funeral of Mrs. James K. Polk.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 16—The funeral of Mrs. James K. Polk occurred here this morning. There was a great crowd present but the services were unostentatious. The remains were placed in a tomb beside those of her distinguished husband.

Wreck on the U. P. R. R.

DENVER, August 16.—The Union Pacific railroad had one of the worst wrecks it has had for years this morning near Brighton, Col., a few miles from this place.

Freight train No. 21, bound toward Denver was running in two sections. The engine of the first section became disabled, and was obliged to stop on the main track for repairs.

The train had been standing there only a few minutes when the second section came around a curve at a high rate of speed and crashed into the rear of the first section, wrecked the engine and several cars of the last train, and making kindling wood of the caboose and five cars of the first section.

Killed in Bed by a Meteor.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y, Aug. 15.—It is reported that Thomas Lucas was killed by a falling star at a small hamlet in Elk county, Pa. Lucas' little daughter aroused the neighbors, and the party repaired to his home. Directly over the bed was a large hole in the ceiling. The plastering was scattered in all directions. On the bed lay the mangled form of Lucas. His head was partially torn off. On the blood-stained pillow lay one eye and several teeth, while blood and brains besmeared the headboard. There was a large hole burned through the bed-clothing and the floor. The floor boards were removed, and embedded in the earth was found a large piece of rock, weighing fully twenty-five pounds, which was yet warm. This confirmed the belief that the house had been struck by a portion of an unexploded meteor.

A Contested Will.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—That Timothy Hopkins intends to contest the will of the late Mrs. Hopkins Searles, in which he was especially and particularly disinherited, is a tacit understanding among those most familiar with the situation, but this opinion is certainly not formed from anything Mr. Hopkins has stated publicly. "I appreciate very much," said he, to-day, "the kindness and sympathy and courtesy of every one, and in this regard I cannot say anything regarding the matter, which I see is of great interest to many people here, and cannot well add a word whether or not I was planning to make a contest. I would not care to have it discussed in any detail in the newspapers. I hate publicity, and like to keep out of the papers. I know that anything I may say is likely to be sent around the country, and to be talked over and twisted and misconstrued; so I really consider the very best thing for me to do is to have as little as possible to say for the present."

Pugilistic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Young Mitchell, this morning, covered Reddy Gallagher's forfeit of $500 posted, to guarantee his being at weight on the night of their fight, in the Occidental Club, for a purse of $5,000.

Searching for Opium.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Customs inspectors and international revenue agents are still keeping strict guard over Chinatown. From early morning, constant patrol has been maintained, so as to prevent the transfer of opium. No further arrests have been made, but a search is being made for the author of the forged stamp of special agent Thomas.

Strike of Stevedores.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—All is quiet among striking stevedores on the water front. The non-union employes of Spreckels Bros. are still at work, but the union men assert that when the time comes for them to show their hand, they will join the strikers. That time will be when there is a rush of work, and before the week is over. The union men believe that vessel owners will find it impossible to get stevedores—either union or non-union—to work, and that raw hands will find it impossible to handle cargoes.

They Want Their Wages.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 17.—There were 135 very angry men around the office of George W. Hume & Co. this afternoon. They were the fishermen who arrived on the Nicholas Thayer from Karluk last week. When the men quit work, the secretary of the Arctic Packing Co. gave them orders on Hume for the money due them. Hume refuses to recognize the orders, hence the crowd of angry fisherman around his office.

A Lightweight Match.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug, 17.—Paddy Smith, the lightweight, who is now a member of the Seattle fire department, has challenged the winner of the Maber-Kelly set-to, in the Occidental Club, this month. The club is talking of matching Smith and Maber for a finish contest. They can both fight at 135 pounds. Both have been defeated by Danny Needham.
